Sarah Garland is a great author of children's books in the UK, and this is a great book for children. It tells the story of a young boy Eddie planting a garden with his mum and little sister Lily. My two year old son loves this book, and has been inspired to push his wheelbarrow around our garden, dig lots of holes in the dirt, plant seeds and water. This book is good for 2 year olds and older children. The illustrations are loving and wonderful.

My 4 1/2 year old loves this book. It very basically tells the steps for planting a garden, from buying seeds and earth, to planting and weeding, and finally to eating what you grew. It has wonderfully set the stage planting our own garden.

This was the type of book that kept the kid's interest. Used it in a summer session for 15 K-2 graders. They acted out the story. One was a pumpkin etc... Another great read!

We first found this book at the library, it became my 3 year old daughters favorite book. She is so excited for the Spring to come so we can plant a small garden!

Great book to go with my "Things That Grow" unit.

My two-year-old says:She play in sand. He's play in sand. Eat. And he's play in sand now. And him and she stick dirt. "Beans to me!" I live in there. Turn the house. They read. Read the beanstalk book. Climb up and touch the clouds. And take a nap. I have this book somewhere, same as there. Flowers. And food, eat. It's a funny book.
