Customer Reviews

Roses are red, violets are blue & they're only two of the flowers in this bright & informative amaryllis to zinnia alphabet book for young readers. With Leslie Evans' gorgeous & inspiring artwork of the flowers & clues to Jerry Pallotta's text, we are seamlessly taught our letters & come away with not only what each letter means, we also are inspired to connect ideas portrayed throughout the pictures. There is even an Artist's Notes page on which is given details of the histories given to each plant; useful & curious trivia that completes this perfect bouquet of learning. Very well done - a delight to both my eyes & my mind!

My 3 year old loves to take walks with her Grandma and talk about all the pretty flowers. I realized I did not know the names of most flowers and thought this book would be a good way for us both to learn. We both enjoy reading the book together and then trying to find the flowers together. I am going to check out this authors other ABC books.

This is beautiful book. I bought this for my Dad who was an avid gardener when he was able. He now has Alzheimers but he still loves flowers. He loved sitting down and looking at all of the pictures. This is a quality book that has beautiful pictures.

As a long distance grandparent, I use every opportunity I can to bond with my Granddaughter. On a recent trip to visit, I experienced her newly found love of "all things flowers". So, I recently purchased this book and it immediately went to the top of her "favorite" list. She has just about memorized every flower in the book and has become quite proficient at identifying them in gardens. I hope this has set the foundation for a hobby we can share for years to come.

My four year old daughter and I stumbled across this book last summer on vacation and then I ordered it for her for Christmas. It's beautifully illustrated and she was fascinated by the pretty pictures.

One of our all time favorite picture alphabet books. Jerry Pallotta's alphabet books are terrific. This one is beautifully illustrated. At two years old my son knew all 26 flower names in this book. He's nineteen now and we give Pallotta's alphabet books again and again as gifts. Also look for the Frog Alphabet Book, The Ocean Alphabet Book, The Butterfly Alphabet Book and the list goes on. He also has a book about a lobster boat.

My wife loves these types of books (there is a series), she uses them in he day care business to teach the little ones. The way the subject is presented interests the children and keeps them often captivated. Great price, quick delivery.

I got two of these books, one for each set of grandkids. First saw it at the Ringling Museum of Art in one of their exhibitions. But couldn't find it in their gift shop. So ordered it through . The pictures, the words, all of it a delight.
